

Potting Media

Soil-less media for plant nurseries

In order to protect young plants from soil-borne diseases, soil-less potting media is critical. Potting media is made from natural organic substances and is enriched with key minerals necessary for early plant growth.